

ACTIONS & REMEDIATION

Act faster and take control of your risk

Rivo Actions and Remediation helps you offer a quick, controlled response to any risks across your organization – including incidents or non-conformances from audits or inspections and ad-hoc action management for employees or contractors. Whether you're on site or in remote locations, you can use Rivo anywhere. Our easy to use mobile interface helps you create and assign both corrective or preventative actions, online or offline.

Rivo will help you:

- ✔ Assign tasks and actions offline where signal is low/unavailable
- ✔ Assign actions to employees or contractors
- ✔ Use a smart phone, tablet or laptop to respond to risk at source
- ✔ Send instant, automated action alerts
- ✔ Manage incidents on any scale
- ✔ Take control and mitigate risk
- ✔ Monitor action close out performance for closed loop risk management

Throughout the business, Rivo has encouraged employees to take more responsibility for Health & Safety at their individual levels, assisting them in prioritizing and managing required actions. The system has exceeded our expectations, as proven by a recent evaluation which gave it a 100% satisfaction score.

Assign actions to anyone

Rivo molds itself to the way your company already works. Whether you want to allocate actions to individuals, teams, contractors or suppliers, Rivo helps you do it instantly.

Instant, automated action alerts

When an action is created Rivo automatically sends both an email alert and an alert within the application to save you time and ensure the right people get the message.

WAFI

I did a lot of research on the market and found myself looking at the Rivo system. I must say that it was the best choice. The Rivo team have worked with me for approximately two months to modify the system to meet my exact requirements. I now have a system designed to fit with my organization and it is exactly what I needed. You can't go wrong with Rivo."

Automatically manage action close out

Keeping track of actions across multiple teams and locations can be tough. We've included automated reminders and monitoring to ensure effective action close out, and to help you identify any poor performance.

Respond to risk at source

Rivo is designed to work on almost any Android or Apple device. This means you can allocate actions at the source of the risk, while events are fresh in your mind, and make sure they're dealt with quickly.

Control risk across your business

Rivo helps managers swiftly tackle a company-wide issue by applying the same action to multiple sites simultaneously. Furthermore, Rivo's summary reports can help managers allocate resources efficiently by highlighting hotspots with high concentrations of actions.

One central plan of action

Say goodbye to document versioning, sending update emails, and saving to the right network drive. Rivo stores a single version of 'the truth', to help you spot trends and keep everyone on the same page.

Our apps are built for performance:

- ✔ 99.9% uptime and central secure cloud storage of your data
- ✔ Multi-platform support (including mobile) so you can take actions anywhere
- ✔ 24/7 total support by phone or email as standard, so we're always here to help

Easy to use, even occasionally

We have made sure Rivo is really intuitive to use. Even if some of your team don't use our platform regularly, they can easily jump on and view their action or task without needing to relearn the software each time.

Flexible reports that work for you

Rivo's charts can be manipulated to uncover multiple views of the same dataset, to help you present your reports in a clean, easily digestible format that shows you precisely the right dataset.

About Rivo

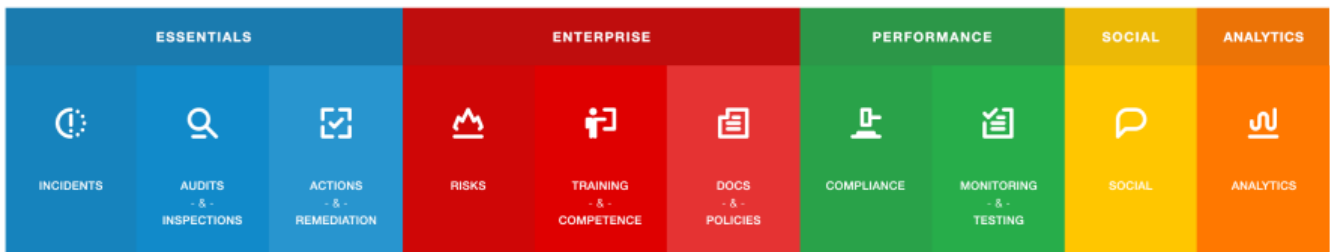

At Rivo, we've built market leading applications that transform how EHS and risk is managed.
